CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

BOARD EFFECTIVENESS BEST PRACTICES

In Compliance with SEC-Mandated Requirements for Board Directors

Friday, 9 November 2017 * EDSA Shangri-La Hotel, Mandaluyong City, Philippines* 9AM to 5PM

With the SEC's renewed drive for its strict implementation of the Revised Code of Corporate Governance that penalizes businesses for violation of its provisions, CGBP is launching this annual education awareness seminar to help companies comply with the SEC-mandated requirements and to help board directors align their skills to the global standard and best practices on board effectiveness. Board directors of public & publicly-listed companies are also required to attend a corporate governance seminar once a year to be eligible for election / re-election in the board of a corporation.

In this SEC-accredited program, we will provide you with SEC updates and feature the global best practices of highly effective boards as well as examples on how to implement corporate governance in your organization. Attend and gain more success with better governance!

Lecturer 1: Judith V. Lopez, CPA – Chairperson and senior partner of Isla Lipana and Company, a member firm and Philippine office of the largest accounting firm in the world, Price Waterhouse Coopers (2009 to 2014). She will share the results of PWCs global research conducted by all its offices worldwide on board effectiveness best practices. She will also share her valuable insights and experiences being a board director of many companies across various industries.

Lecturer 2: Jonathan Ravelas is the Chief Market Strategist of the largest commercial bank in the Philippines -- BDO. Part of his job is to analyze volumes of financial statements to provide valuable insights on the financial performance of companies and the equities markets. His investment advice is well sought after with his commentaries appearing in Asian Wall Street Journal, Business World and Philippine Daily Inquirer newspapers, as well as televised interviews on ANC, Bloomberg and BBC. Part of his advocacy is to lecture on corporate governance to help companies become world-class organizations.
