Cooperative Accounting is unique. It is not really taught in school. With the growing financial power of 22,770 cooperatives and millions of members with billions of transactions in the Philippines, business organizations must understand their language of business if they want to capture opportunities in this rich but unnoticed market.

Coops have a different income statement (called statement of operations), different balance sheet (statement of financial conditions) unique chart of accounts, and different terminologies such as statutory funds, patronage refunds, net surplus, etc. How do you really read, analyze and interpret coop financial statements if you are a member of the coop management and board, if you are the bank lending to them, the accounting firm servicing your coop client, or the business that want to understand its financial soundness to do B2B transactions? Are you ready with your COOPeration & COOPetition with them? Attend if you want to tap this rich market!

Elenita S. Mantalaba, CPA is an expert practitioner with a mastery of cooperative accounting having written 7 manuals and books on this topic. She was a director of the PUP Institute of Cooperatives (1997 to 2004). She was part of the Senate and House of Representative Technical Working Group that drafted RA 9520 Coop Code of 2008 and its IRR in 2010 as well as the development of the Standard Chart of Accounts and Performance Standards for Coops. She has helped CDA in the development of its instrument in Performance Audit and Accreditation Guidelines. She has led the installation of many accounting systems of numerous cooperatives in the country. Graduated Cum Laude, PUP 1967 with a Bachelor of Science in Commerce, Major in Accounting.

8 & 9 March 2012 * THE PENINSULA MANILA, MAKATI CITY, PHILIPPINES * 9:00am to 5:00pm

Cooperative Accounting is unique. It is not really taught in school. With the growing financial power of 22,770 cooperatives and millions of members with billions of transactions in the Philippines, business organizations must understand their language of business if they want to capture opportunities in this rich but unnoticed market.

Coops have a different income statement (called statement of operations), different balance sheet (statement of financial conditions) unique chart of accounts, and different terminologies such as statutory funds, patronage refunds, net surplus, etc. How do you really read, analyze and interpret coop financial statements if you are a member of the coop management and board, if you are the bank lending to them, the accounting firm servicing your coop client, or the business that want to understand its financial soundness to do B2B transactions? Are you ready with your COOPeration & COOPetition with them? Attend if you want to tap this rich market!

Elenita S. Mantalaba, CPA is an expert practitioner with a mastery of cooperative accounting having written 7 manuals and books on this topic. She was a director of the PUP Institute of Cooperatives (1997 to 2004). She was part of the Senate and House of Representative Technical Working Group that drafted RA 9520 Coop Code of 2008 and its IRR in 2010 as well as the development of the Standard Chart of Accounts and Performance Standards for Coops. She has helped CDA in the development of its instrument in Performance Audit and Accreditation Guidelines. She has led the installation of many accounting systems of numerous cooperatives in the country. Graduated Cum Laude, PUP 1967 with a Bachelor of Science in Commerce, Major in Accounting.