

BEST PRACTICES IN PROJECT GOVERNANCE FOR GOVERNING BOARDS

THURSDAY & FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10 & 11, 2022 * 1:30PM TO 4:45PM via Zoom

Project owners lose when project managers fail. This should never happen! The quality of governance and management in the project is a key differentiator in enabling the “first time right and every time right” in the sustainable project delivery of unique products and services that create new value for the stakeholders and customers.

As project owners, governing boards, senior management, it’s a must to learn the international standards and framework on quality project governance and management as well as the best practices on how to tailor a project management methodology based on globally-accepted principles and approaches to ensure success of your projects.

This is an SEC-accredited corporate governance training. Enroll and gain practice-oriented knowledge in this pioneering program.

Course Director & Lecturer: Mr. John J. Macasio is the trainer and consultant of many private and government institutions. He has recently done capacity building on project governance with the following organizations among many others:

1. Department of Finance
2. Philhealth - Information Security Group
3. Light Rail Transit Authority
4. National Privacy Commission

He co-authored the United Nations ESCAP/ APCICT published guidance on ICT Project Management - Theory and Application. The academy module has been introduced and translated in six (6) countries.
